El alma en los labios

Cuando de nuestro amor, la llama apasionada dentro tu pecho amante, contemples extinguida ya que solo por ti la vida me es amada el día en que me faltes, me arrancaré la vida.

Porque mi pensamiento, lleno de este cariño, que en una hora feliz, me hiciera esclavo tuyo, lejos de tus pupilas, es triste como un niño, que se duerme soñando, en tu acento de arrullo.

Para envolverte en besos, quisiera ser el viento, y quisiera ser todo, lo que tu mano toca; ser tu sonrisa, ser hasta tu mismo aliento, para poder estar más cerca de tu boca.

Vivo de tus palabras y eternamente espero llamarte mía, como quien espera un tesoro; lejos de ti comprendo, lo mucho que te quiero, y besando tus cartas, ingenuamente te lloro.

Perdona si no tengo, palabras con que pueda, decirte la inefable, pasión que me devora, para expresar mi amor, solamente me queda, rasgarme el pecho, amada y en tus manos de seda dejar mi palpitante, corazón que te adora.

Letra: Medardo Ángel Silva

Reading

READING: Read Jame's blog post and circle the correct letter A, B, C, or D.

This is the end of the second week of my trip to Australia. I'm spending a few days at Ayers Rock, or Uluru, as the local people call it. I took the train here from Adelaide because I wanted to see as much of this huge country as possible. It was a really long journey and a little boring, to be honest.

There isn't really that much to see – just desert and a few plants here and there! I didn't even see any animals. Most of them only come out when it starts to get dark, so they probably were asleep. I guess it's too hot for them in the sun.

When I got here, I met the group of students I'm camping with. We have a fantastic local guide who knows so much about the history and geography of this place. The weather is really extreme. It's very hot during the day and freezing at night! No one can remember the last time there was heavy rain here, so you can imagine how careful everyone is with water.

Tomorrow, we're hiking around Ayers Rock. It doesn't look that big in pictures, but the trail around the rock is almost 10 kilometres. It's a long hike, but I'm sure I can do it. The colors are amazing . . . reds and oranges and purples. I'm really looking forward to taking some good photos.

1. James has been in Australia for .
a. two weeks b. a week c. a few days d. a month
2. James thought the train journey to Ayers Rock was .
a. exciting b. not interesting c. enjoyable d. fantastic
3. James thinks he didn't see any animals because .
a. it was dark b. he slept a lot c. it was too hot d. it was raining
4. The guide on the trip .
a. is a student b. is an expert on the area c. came with James by train d. is a teacher
5. It's very unusual to have there.
a. hot weather b. cold weather c. heavy rain d. winter
